CORNELIA COLE FAIRBANKS (Mrs. Charles Warren)
Fifth President General, NSDAR 1901-1905 National Number 9558

CORNELIA COLE FAIRBANKS CHAPTER

The Cornelia Cole Fairbanks Chapter, National Society Daughters of The American Revolution was organized June 28, 1907 with twenty-eight charter members. The original name of the chapter was Indianapolis. The name was changed in 1913 to honor Cornelia Cole Fairbanks after her death. She was born January 7, 1852 in Marysville, Union, Ohio. She graduated as an outstanding student from Ohio Wesleyan College in 1872 in the same class with Charles Warren Fairbanks. They were married in 1874 and came to Indianapolis.

They were the parents of one daughter and four sons.

Mrs. Fairbanks became a member of Caroline Scott Harrison Chapter of NSDAR in 1895, National Number 9558, and Chapter Number 91. In 1898, she was elected Vice President General, and was elected President General and served from 1901 to 1905. Her greatest achievement was that she spearheaded Memorial Continental Hall, which was used for the first time in 1905 for Continental Congress.

Mr. Fairbanks was United States Senator from Indiana from 1897 to 1905 and was Vice President of the United States and served 1905 to 1909 with President Theodore Roosevelt. After many years as a gracious host and hostess in Washington, D.C. and travels to faraway places, the Fairbanks came back to Indianapolis and settled in their home at 2960 North Meridian Street.

As an active DAR, she attended the Indiana State Conference in Crawfordsville, fifteen days before her death, October 24, 1913. The life of Cornelia Cole Fairbanks exemplified the ideals of DAR. She is buried alongside her husband and children at Crown Hill Cemetery in Indianapolis.
